TUESDAY, JULY 5, 1910.

Entered at the post office at Barre as second-class matter.

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

5,605

There was no "back from Elba" for Jeff.

The Robin Hood Powder works at Swanton had their little Fourth of July celebration; but there were no hidden guests to see the grandeur of a 26,000 blow-up. And it was as well that there weren't any, either.

While various Vermont newspapers were printing the statement that Senator Dillingham was too ill to return to Vermont from Washington, that individual was in Montpelier and rapidly recovering from his illness. That was one case where rumors were slow, very slow.

A contingency which the Barre authorities tried to guard against this year, by prohibiting the sale of fireworks in stores where tobacco and cigars were sold, occurred in Newport yesterday afternoon, where a heavy fire loss was sustained in a fireworks store through the carelessness of a smoker. Permits for the sale of fireworks should never be granted where there is liability of fire from the act of lighting matches or from contact with lighted pipes, cigars or cigarettes. The nature of the stock is so very inflammable that the least bit of carelessness is likely to cause a conflagration.

THE EVENT AT RENO.

Whatever may be one's sentiments regarding professional boxing, or prize-fighting, it must be admitted that the meeting of the two human fighting machines at Reno, Nevada, yesterday, was one of the greatest athletic contests of the decade; and it may mark also the close of that branch of the sport which permits fighting to the finish or until one contestant is clearly "counted out." The general interest in the contest has surpassed that centered in any single event for many years, and the interest has not been confined merely to the sporting fraternity, but the contest has caused a spark of interest in the more sedate circles of life. To those who have followed the contest from the start, there is no doubt of the superiority of the man who gained the victory over mind and body in a comparatively short encounter. Johnson, the colored fighter, was by far the more clever boxer, and it is likely that Jeffries never had the same amount of skill that his opponent of yesterday displayed, let alone being in poor physical training for a grueling contest as prize-fighting calls for. Even in the height of his physical strength, the white man would probably have gone down to defeat in a long contest, for Johnson showed that, besides being clever, Johnson is a wonder in physical development, well proportioned, lithe as a tiger and with muscles of steel. It was the old athletic story of youth and vigor against age—premature age, in this case—and worn-out vigor.

THE BENCH NEEDS HUGHES.

The sudden death of Chief Justice Melville W. Fuller of the United States supreme court will put an end to whatever hope there may have been held that Governor Charles E. Hughes of New York could be induced to set aside appointment to the bench to again run for governor of the empire state. Theodore Roosevelt, if he really had an intention of trying to swerve President Taft and Governor Hughes from the intention formed during Roosevelt's absence in Africa, must now admit himself beaten by the hand of death, for the supreme court is in a very disorganized condition at the present time without its presiding justice and without the services of Justice W. H. Moody of Massachusetts and with another comparative novice on the bench. It is probable that Justice Moody will retire within a short time, leaving two vacancies to be filled. Therefore, it becomes quite imperative that Governor Hughes stand by his original determination to accept an appointment at President Taft's hand and enter upon the duties of a jurist on the country's highest bench. The country needs Hughes more at the present time than the Republican party of New York needs him; and his feeling of patriotism alone will be sufficient to cause him to accept the Taft appointment.

INEVITABLE BOOMING.

It was extremely unfortunate that the people of St. Johnsbury couldn't get through their reception to the homecoming candidate for lieutenant-governor without someone "nominating" Mr. Slack for governor. Such an assertion is an extreme embarrassment to the person who is the butt of the remark, and it is more or less distasteful to a people who have just been through the process of having another lieutenant-governor "promoted" on them. Why not let those things come in their due place? Undoubtedly, Mr. Slack if given a chance, would have shut off any such exuberance as the "governor" talk indicated, provided he had been given the censorship of the things said at his welcome home. That the Republican party of Vermont, by a wide margin, has shown its appreciation of the St. Johnsbury man's ability.

ity should not be taken to mean anything more than that until the state has had a chance to see what he can do under fire. Any premature booming of Mr. Slack for governor seems to us to be extremely out of place. No doubt, too, Mr. Slack sees that side of the matter also and is merely a victim of some over-joyous friend and well-wisher.

MONTPELIER.

E. W. Dutton Cut About Head and Shoulders When Horse Ran Away.

E. W. Dutton was out about the head and shoulders Saturday, when the left forward wheel slipped and came off his wagon, frightening the horse, which ran and threw out Mr. Dutton and F. W. Nelson, who was riding with him. Mr. Dutton was taken to the office of a physician, where his wounds were dressed, but he received no serious injuries. Mr. Nelson was unhurt.

The work of repairing the water main on the bed of the Winooski river, above the Bailey dam, has been completed and the pond is filled again.

Rev. L. F. Reed, a former pastor of Bethany church, whose health is very poor and who has been spending some time in New Mexico, hoping that the change would be beneficial, has now gone with Mrs. Reed to Colorado, in search of further health.

The Salvation Army hall, which has been undergoing thorough renovating, was dedicated Saturday evening, with impressive services and the new recruits were also dedicated to the service of God. The members of the corps have received a new set of uniforms and the army seems to be starting anew on a prosperous basis.

POWDER PLANT IS LIGHTNING'S MARK

Three Buildings of Robin Hood Company Totally Destroyed With a Heavy Loss.

Swanton, July 5.—The potash mixing house, one of the 16 small buildings that constitute the powder plant of the Robin Hood Ammunition company, was struck by lightning at 1:30 o'clock Sunday morning, and the explosion that followed roused the whole village and was distinctly felt as far away as St. Albans. Second and third explosions followed at intervals of a few seconds and they marked the destruction of the drying house and laboratory. A heavy downpour of rain prevented further spread of the fire and none of the other buildings were destroyed. Two magazines full of explosives, located but a short distance away, escaped. The building destroyed contained only powder in the process of manufacture.

The shock of the explosion was so great that plate glass windows in Moreau's store across the river were shattered and every window in the Canada Atlantic railroad roundhouse was broken. Windows were broken in several residences in the village and in many instances plaster was shaken from the walls. No one was injured, as the plant was deserted with the exception of the night watchman, and he was at some distance from the wrecked building at the time they were struck.

The buildings destroyed were insured for $2,000, but the greatest loss is in the laboratory, where the tests of explosives were kept. These tests represented long research and it will be difficult to duplicate them.

The powder plant is on an isolated tract of land in the extreme western part of the village, while the new cartridge manufacturing plant of the company is in the extreme eastern part. While the damage is considerable it will in no way interfere with the work of the company. The laboratory is partially duplicated in the remaining portion of the plant.

WOULD NOT BE GOVERNOR.

Roosevelt Says Absolute Impossibility for Him to Accept.

New York, July 5.—Col. Roosevelt would not accept nomination for governor of New York. About 10 days ago the Republican club in Utica passed a resolution putting forward his name. This resolution was forwarded Mr. Roosevelt June 19. It appears that Mr. Roosevelt wrote an immediate reply but in some manner the letter was mislaid and not until a day or two ago did the secretary of the club, Fred B. Adams of Utica, receive the colonel's letter. The text of Col. Roosevelt's letter, as printed in New York Sunday, is as follows:

May I, through you, cordially thank the Republican club of Oneida county for its message of appreciative good will? Believe me, I appreciate it, and I trust you will make the club understand that I do appreciate it. But I also ask that the club at once stop any agitation to have me nominated for governor. It would be an absolute impossibility for me to accept.

With high regards, sincerely yours, Theodore Roosevelt.

Lightning Enters Dwelling.

Essex Junction, July 5.—Lightning struck the house of Fred Vile about one o'clock Sunday morning but did little damage. A floor near a stove pipe upstairs was slightly splintered. The bolt made a jump down stairs and, entering the pantry, broke a mirror that hung on the wall. No traces could be found of where it passed out of the house.
